

COAL MINE STRIKE IS NOW COMPLETE

LAST COAL MINER IS OUT AT CARBON HILL, ILL.

Settlement Not In Sight—Only Those Men Who Are Being Paid the Full Scale Remain at Work in the Braidwood Field—Destitution Reported Among the Miners.

Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 19.—The last pick struck in Carbon Hill tells the story of a complete tie-up of the mines in northern Illinois, excepting those in which the scale is being paid, and which are contributing 10 per cent to the support of the men who are out. Word came from Carbon Hill Thursday morning that the few men who had been working in shaft No. 2 had followed the example of those from No. 3 shaft, and that so far as mining was concerned the rooms were as silent as the grave. This position is the outcome of the refusal of the operators to meet the miners' representatives and arrange for the arbitration of the differences. There is no doubt the men would have accepted the finding of an arbitration board, no matter what price might have been determined upon, and they would have been glad to make an arrangement to keep the mines running for a year. Now, they say, this is impossible, and there are many who do not care whether they go to work at all, for it is almost the unanimous opinion that the fight will be resumed in May.

Next month there is to be a national revision of the scale. That an increase over the price paid at this time in all the fields will be asked for there is no doubt. Neither is there any doubt that all the Illinois men will go out in support of the new scale. The men here believe that all their troubles are due to a lack of unity and organization, and they are making arrangements to remedy the evil complained of.

Coal mining on the surface is getting to be an important industry in this vicinity. It is an instance where men, women and children dig to keep from freezing to death. The cold weather of the last three or four days has set many of these infant industries at work. Thursday twenty or more men, women and children could be seen digging about the dumps of deserted mines in quest of the small particles of coal that find their way in with the great dirt heaps. Some of them had sieves and worked shovelfuls of earth over as carefully and industriously as a placer miner would on his claim.

Between Coal City and Carbon Hill a boy of 6 and a girl of 4 dug into the side of the roadbed of the Santa Fe railroad for coal. The boy's legs were bare from the tops of his worn-out shoes to his knee pants, and the hands and face of the little girl were blue with the cold. A small fruit basket, with probably two pounds of pea coal, was the product of a full morning's work, and the two little tots worked throughout the noon hour with no thought of warm dinner or lunch.

The boy said his father was sick with a cold and would die unless he was kept warm. The Santa Fe track at the point where these children were at work has been all but undermined by the searchers for coal. And this in a district that produces as much and as good bituminous coal as any district in the country, and which the men who now look upon a lump of coal as a treasure have made famous the world over. It will be wholly unnecessary for the good people of Illinois to send their spare change to the starving pacificos of Cuba in order to make the best use of it. They have a large field for operation right at home.

M'KINLEY IS FOR PEACE.

President Will Urge the Cubans to Accept Autonomy.

New York, Nov. 19.—The World makes the following statement: "The World is able to say on very high authority that President McKinley will tacitly approve the program for autonomy or home rule for Cuba which Spain now promises. The President will express the hope that the Cubans will not prolong their war for complete independence, but will accept instead a form of autonomy. If the Cubans do not heed his advice Spain will be given more time without interference from the United States.

"Spain has been informed of McKinley's hopes and plans, and as the first evidence of her own fond intentions and good-will she pardoned and released the American crew of the filibustering schooner Competitor, caught under arms off the coast of Cuba on April 15, 1896."

Adolphe Guy, consular agent of the United States at Edmunston, New Brunswick, for two weeks' leave, and appointed Emma Hart to act as consular agent during his absence.

REVIEWS YEAR'S WORK.

Report of Secretary Bliss—Many Persons Employed in the Bureau.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The first annual report of Cornelius Bliss, secretary of the interior, is devoted to brief reviews of the business of the many bureaus of the department for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, including those devoted to patents, the general land office, pensions, Indian affairs and education.

For the year there was an appropriation of $156,460,038.89 for the interior department, being $161,724.98 less than the amount estimated. There were 14,519 persons employed in the bureaus, with a salary roll of $8,776,555. Of this vast army of employees the largest number—6,611—were at work in the pension bureau. The next largest number was employed in the bureau of Indian affairs, which had 4,604 on the pay roll.

Speedy action in securing proper legislation for the coming twelfth census is urged, lack of sufficient time in the past two or three enumerations is complained of and the necessity of many reforms in the way of lessening the bulk of the reports.

Work on the Nicaragua canal is still suspended and the company reports liabilities consisting of the amounts still due under the concessions to the company of $6,705,000 of bonds and not exceeding $100 cash liabilities outstanding unpaid. Assets: Unused capital stock, $518,500 first mortgage bonds and the 2,420 shares of capital stock, received in liquidation, the concessions, rights, privileges, franchises, etc., which it now owns, plant, equipments, lands, railway supplies and other property in Central America, including the lands between the lake and the Pacific.

MASKS ARE TORN AWAY.

Identity of White Caps Known—Nine Indiana Men Indicted.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 19.—After a long and careful investigation into the numerous white cap outrages that have been committed in this county the grand jury has at last returned indictments against nine well-known citizens, and they have been arrested and are now under bond to answer for the crime of brutally whipping Milton Southers, his mother and a young woman on the night of Aug. 17. The men under indictment are William Sexton, Eli Eads, George Hartsock, Oscar Mitchell, John Mitchell, Everett Chambers, Charles Bodkins, Maurice Lucas, George Palmer.

All being in the vicinity of Fairfax, about ten miles southeast of here.

Great interest is manifested in the proceedings because of the long investigation that has been in progress and the high standing of those who have been arrested and because of the fact that it is known that Governor Mount has assured Judge Martin that he would give him any assistance in the power of the state to bring the guilty men to justice.

The case will be set for trial the first week of the January term, and a long and bitter contest will follow. It is already known that the defense will set up an alibi.

H. V. Hill, Hardy, Ark.; leg hurt.

When near Williford the engineer felt the train leap forward and found that it had parted between the two day coaches. The last three cars bumped over the tie, the chair car and sleeper turning over on their sides. The intense darkness added to the confusion, and it was some time before an organized effort at rescue was put into effect by the train crew and those of the passengers who had been able to extricate themselves without aid. As the flames from the two burning cars became brighter the rescuers were enabled to work to better advantage.

It is thought some portion of the forward truck of the smoker gave way, causing the accident.

EXECUTION OF A. J. FRANTZ.

Dayton Murderer Dies a Lingering Death in the Ohio Electric Chair.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Albert J. Frantz, a Dayton murderer, was executed at the penitentiary at midnight Wednesday. Frantz, 22 years old, and a bookkeeper for the Mathias Planing Mill company at Dayton, killed Bessie Lamb, a sweetheart, in order that he might marry another girl. He took her for a drive, shot her through the head and threw the body from the bridge into the Miami river. His case went through the Common Pleas, Circuit and Supreme courts, the board of pardons and the executive office.

Frantz broke down utterly when parting from his sisters and brothers. He recovered his self-control, however, and was cool at the time of taking the electric chair. He was executed at 12:20 o'clock, the current being turned on five times. For some unknown reason there was an interval of three minutes between the first and second shocks. The first did not kill, yet the man was left writhing for three minutes before the second shock came, bringing death.

MONEY IS MISSING FROM THREE BANKS

CASHIER WILLETT BELIEVED TO BE AN EMBEZZLER.

Left Little in the Banks—Of $70,000 on Deposit Only $8,000 Was in the Vaults—Exact Amounts Cannot Be Determined Without An Examination.

English, Ind., Nov. 19.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of R. W. Willett, the fugitive cashier of the three broken banks. The affidavit on which the warrant was issued was made last Saturday, but the legal process was withheld with the hope that the cashier might come back and assist in clearing up the financial wreck by assigning his private property for the benefit of creditors. The general impression is that it is Willett who was seen in Warsaw, this state, and that he is now in Canada.

It is now thought that Willett must have taken a large sum of money with him. President Weathers says the deposits at the time of the failure were as follows: Leavenworth bank, $78,000; Marengo bank, $32,000; English bank, $60,000. Less than $8,000 in cash was found in the three banks after the departure of the cashier. The exact amount taken cannot be told until R. A. Arnold, the assignee, finds out from an examination of the books how much the three establishments had out in loans.

BAPTIST CONGRESS CLOSED.

Spirit of Liberalism Again Manifested by Several Members.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The closing hours of the Baptist congress were as suggestive of the invasion of liberalism as were the initiatory proceedings in which the received doctrine of immersion was given a setback. The congress closed its deliberations yesterday afternoon. "The Psychology of Conversion" and "The Power of the Cross in the Life of Believers" were the last topics considered by the congress. In his valedictory Dr. Kendrick insisted that although the congress was a representative body, the Baptist denomination was not responsible for the utterances of its appointed speakers and writers. "Although this congress fairly represents the scholarship of the church," he said, "I think it should be recognized as a fundamental fact that our speakers in no sense represent the doctrinal views of the Baptist denomination."

NOVAK'S DEFENSE.

Plea That the Building at Walford Caught Fire from a Gas Jet.

Vinton, Iowa, Nov. 19.—Thursday Dr. L. H. Andrews, professor of chemistry in the Iowa State university, and Dr. Frank Carroll of Cedar Rapids were on the stand in the Novak murder trial. Their testimony referred to the gases which are liberated by the imperfect combustion of wood and coal; the effects these gases have upon a human being; the effect they have upon the blood, and whether it would be possible for a person to be so overcome by them that he would suffer from aberration of the mind for any length of time and still not have physical powers impaired to any noticeable degree. Both of the experts testified that it would be possible for a man to be overcome by gas and be partially burned before life was extinct.

From this testimony it is believed the defense will contend that Frank Novak was aroused from his sleep, but had been overcome by the gases in the store building and was not accountable for his actions, and before he had recovered from this temporary aberration of mind had wandered so far from home that it was then impossible for him to return; that Murray did not awake and was entirely overcome by the gases, and that in falling to the basement he struck his head in such a manner as to cause a fracture of the skull and rupture of the dura mater; that this occurred before life was extinct, and that this accounts for the blood clot found within the skull.

From this testimony it is believed the defense will contend that a gas jet was swung around close to the door and left burning, and that in some way it set the building on fire.

Within a couple of hours after their arrival a meeting of the cabinet was held, at which all the ministers in town were present, and the premier explained the nature of the recent negotiations with President McKinley and his ministers. After the meeting closed the premier said: "It is plain to us that the sealing question cannot be settled by itself. It can only be considered in connection with irritating and important questions. There is no intention whatever of negotiating any reciprocity treaty that would interfere with or affect Canada's existing British preferential tariff."

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 19.—The extensive interests of Henry Sherry scattered throughout northern Wisconsin passed out of his possession and control Thursday night and into the hands of James W. Cameron, of Milwaukee, to be conserved and managed for the benefit of Mr. Sherry's creditors. There were seven assignments filed—that of Mr. Sherry individually and those of six companies whose finances were too closely interlinked with Mr. Sherry's estate to permit of escape.

The assignee gave bonds for $505,000. There were no attachments filed and no movement on the part of the creditors, the disposition apparently being to let the matter work out along the lines selected by Mr. Sherry.

It will be located just east of the stock yards, on the Alexander farm. This is handy to the St. Paul track, and good drainage can be secured. The building will be erected at once, and the factory will be ready for operation within six weeks. This will be good news to the farmers in this immediate vicinity.

A. R. U. MAN GIVEN $21,666

C. & N. W. Company Mulcted For Alleged Black List in Chicago

Fred R. Ketcham was awarded a verdict of $21,666 by the jury in Judge O. J. Potter's court in Chicago yesterday in his suit against the Northwestern railroad for $25,000 damages for blacklisting.

The case of Ketcham against the Northwestern company has been on trial for nearly three weeks and has been of great interest to men employed in the railroad business. During the great strike of the American Railway union Ketcham was employed as conductor for the Northwestern railroad. He joined the strikers and the evidence showed, attended some of the meetings in the interest of the A. R. U.

Since the strike, Ketcham claims he has been unable to secure steady employment, owing to the fact that he was blacklisted. He obtained several positions with other roads, but after working a short time was discharged, he alleged, without cause. Not long after Ketcham secured employment with the Michigan Central Elevator company at Kensington and moved his family to that suburb. He worked a short time there and was discharged. The trial throughout was a hotly contested one on both sides. It will be appealed.

TROUBLE OVER A UNION

Janesville Organizer Made Trouble For Oshkosh Barbers and Employers.

MRS. RUPPE FOILED
BY TINY TIN TYPE

IT SHOWED HER IN A BATHING COSTUME.

Beside Her Stood a Nice Young Man—Photo Was a Detective's Ruse—She Didn't Know It But It Spoiled Her Chance of Damages From a Trolley Company.

Damage suits are a source of profit in other cities beside Janesville and their are unscrupulous claimants in other cities. A case that has local bearing has been reported to local attorneys and comes from the supreme court of Brooklyn. Mrs. Carrie Ruppe, her husband of seven weeks and a host of their friends were in court last week when Mrs. Ruppe's suit for damages for injuries received two years ago when she was struck by a trolley wire was brought to trial.

Mrs. Ruppe looked sad as she told of the injuries she had received. She described how three surgeons had been needed to attend to her, for she had been in bed for months, and as she brushed away a tear she said one of the doctors had died while attending her. Former Judge Dailey, her counsel, questioned her at length, and when he concluded she was about to leave the witness stand. To the minds of her friends she had clearly established her case.

Her Day at Coney Island

"One minute," said Lawyer Hughes, of the firm of Sheehan & Collins. "One minute, Mrs. Ruppe. Do you ever go to Coney Island?"

"I object," said Lawyer Dailey. "That is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial."

"What do you wish to prove by that question?" asked Judge Van Wyck, the brother of the mayor-elect of Greater New York.

"A photograph," said Lawyer Hughes, and he smiled.

"Of me?" shouted Mrs. Ruppe.

The lawyer handed to Mrs. Ruppe a tintype and asked her if she was the woman in the photograph. Mrs. Ruppe was silent as she looked at the picture.

"Well, Mrs. Ruppe," said the lawyer, "is that your photo?"

"Yes, sir," came in a whisper from Mrs. Ruppe, and she glanced at her husband.

Didn't Know the Detective.

The photograph was marked as an exhibit and made part of the evidence. Then on cross examination it was brought out that the photo, which showed Mrs. Ruppe and a man in bathing costumes, had been taken at Coney Island on July 28, 1895 about five weeks after the accident—just about the time the plaintiff was unable to leave her bed.

Mrs. Ruppe, who was then Miss Carrie Martin, admitted that the young man had spoken to her while she was bathing and that at his request they had the picture taken together. Then it was shown that the young man was a detective for the railroad company and that he had artfully laid the trap into which the young woman had fallen. This astonished Mrs. Ruppe so greatly that she declared she didn't know he was a detective.

After the development the case seemed to lose interest for the young woman's friends and they were not surprised when the jury's verdict was against her.

Beside Her Stood a Nice Young Man—Photo Was a Detective's Ruse—She Didn't Know It But It Spoiled Her Chance of Damages From a Trolley Company.

Damage suits are a source of profit in other cities beside Janesville and their are unscrupulous claimants in other cities. A case that has local bearing has been reported to local attorneys and comes from the supreme court of Brooklyn. Mrs. Carrie Ruppe, her husband of seven weeks and a host of their friends were in court last week when Mrs. Ruppe's suit for damages for injuries received two years ago when she was struck by a trolley wire was brought to trial.

Mrs. Ruppe looked sad as she told of the injuries she had received. She described how three surgeons had been needed to attend to her, for she had been in bed for months, and as she brushed away a tear she said one of the doctors had died while attending her. JIMMIE COBB.

An Amusing Creature of Wonderful Yet Simple Construction.

Select five corn-cobs—one large white cob, two of medium size and two small popcorn cobs. You will also want five common wire hairpins and some bits of gay cloth. Be sure that all the cobs are perfect in shape.

Now push one of the hairpins into the pit at the large end of each of the four small cobs. To do this, press the points together and push down firmly until but one-fourth of an inch is left, thus forming a strong wire loop. Now take the two larger cobs and hang both, by these loops, to the fifth hairpin, which must be pushed firmly into the large end of the largest cob. These form Mr. Jimmie's legs, which are thus enabled to move about quite naturally.

Make a hole clear through the larger cob, from side to side, about three inches from the top. Pass a strong cord through the wire loop of one of the popcorn cobs, run it through the hole of the body cob into the loop of the other body cob and back again through the hole, then tie the two ends firmly together. This finishes the body of Jimmie, whose arms and legs swing naturally.

To make Jimmie's face, draw a piece of white muslin smoothly over the upper part of the cob, sewing it firmly just above the arms. Paint his features or draw them with ink and be sure to give him a smiling countenance. Now make a pair of trousers of some bright color, slip them over his legs and fasten them firmly about his body. A strip of another color drawn smoothly around him and fastened at the back forms his shirt. Make a loose coat, with sleeves, and slip it on, fastening it only at the neck. Add a bow of bright tape for a necktie, and Jimmie Cobb is ready for presentation. A child will get more solid satisfaction out of this doll than from a dozen "breaky" dolls, as our little girl calls them.—Housekeeper.

Playing "Word Rhapsody."

With the coming of the long evenings and the entertainments and parties which they bring comes the old question, "Isn't there something new that we can play?"

It is always difficult to find anything altogether fresh and original, and some of the older games, a trifle worked over and freshened up, will be found quite as interesting as anything else. For instance, there are many word games, but

THEY RIDICULE IT!

MANY PEOPLE RIDICULE THE IDEA OF AN ABSOLUTE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLES.

Ridicule, however, is not argument and facts are stubborn things.

Stomach troubles are so common and in many cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially on medicine.

This fear of being humbugged may be carried too far; so far, in fact, that many persons suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten promptly, thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely upon the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, taken after meals, digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison as it creates gas, acidity, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite, and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. Address Stuart C. Marshall, Mich., for book on stomach diseases or ask your druggist for it.

not one of them is quite like the little funmaker known as the "word rhapsody." In playing this game each of the guests is called upon to choose one word. This word is written upon a little card furnished by the hostess. It may be an adjective, a verb, a common or proper noun or any other word that may suggest itself. The cards are then gathered up and the hostess writes all the words on a large piece of white paper with a red pencil, so that, when hung up, it can be seen all over the room. Then each guest is invited to write a short story in which every one of the words appears, all of them being used grammatically and in a manner to make sense. The time of work should be limited to ten minutes. When the stories are complete, the authors are invited to read them aloud, or the hostess collects them and reads them herself. The results are often very amusing. The rhapsody also makes a good school exercise.—Chicago Record.

"E Pluribus Unum."

We are indebted to John Adams for our national motto, "E Pluribus Unum." While he was minister to England Sir John Prestwick suggested it to Mr. Adams as a good motto to indicate the union of the colonies. It was submitted to congress and adopted by act of congress, June, 1782. The eagle in its beak bears a ribbon on which is the motto. In the early days of its use the eagle bore also in its talons a bundle of 13 arrows, but when, in 1841, a new seal was made to take the place of the old one, which had become worn, only six arrows were placed in the talons. Whether this change was ordered by law or not is not known. The old Latin motto was in use in England as far back as 1730 on The Gentleman's Magazine.—St. Nicholas.

Her Awful Dream.

A little maid of tender years had such an awful dream! She came to me almost in tears. "I just was going to scream

"When both my eyes came open wide, And, oh, I was so glad To find it was a dream," she cried. "Because it was so bad!"

"What could it be, poor child?" I said. "Were you pursued by bears? Perhaps your dolly broke her head? Or did you fall down stairs?"

"Oh, dear! It's most too bad to tell You know in school our class Are havin' 'zammations. Well, I dreamed I didn't pass!"

A Logical Inference.

Every summer Mrs. Chaffie goes off and spends several months at the seaside, leaving her husband at home. A few days ago Johnnie, who is a thoughtful boy, asked the old man: "Papa, are the swallows the wives of the sparrows?" "What a silly question!" "Well, I didn't know," replied Johnnie. "If the swallows ain't the wives of the sparrows, why do the swallows go off every year and leave the sparrows at home?"—N. Y. World.

Discusses Care of Poor.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 19.—The state conference of charities and corrections continued its session here Thursday. President Finley of Knox college was to have delivered an address on "The Care of the Poor," but did not appear, and his place was supplied by H. F. Hart, secretary of the state board of charities and corrections of Minnesota. Other short addresses followed.

J. E. Owen of St. Clair county, keeper of the model poor farm of the state, read a paper on "The Care of the Pauper in the Almshouse." He deplored the manner in which all kinds of paupers are herded together in poorhouses and declared that nothing could be done for them under such conditions.

Adds to Its Churches.

New York, Nov. 19.—The thirteenth annual meeting of the Unitarian conference of the Middle states and Canada was opened in All Souls' church here Thursday. The report of Secretary Morehouse showed that, while during the decade of 1877 to 1887 the Unitarian churches had decreased five in number, during the decade from 1887 to 1897 there had been a net increase of thirteen, ten of which are self-supporting. In the last ten years $267,000 had been spent in the Middle states and Canada for the erection of church edifices. The old officers were re-elected.

Lecture Fund Increased.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—A resolution was adopted at Thursday's session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, appropriating $50 for the use of the assembly of the Priests of Demeter. A resolution to amend the constitution by reducing the fees of women under 21 was defeated. Master-elect Aaron Jones of Indiana made a report in regard to plans for extending the order during the coming year. Five thousand dollars will be set aside as a lecture fund, $1,000 more than is now used for this purpose.

ALUMINUM is now ten per cent cheaper than brass, being sold at 33 cents per pound.

His Bluff Called.

When the young man called to ask for the old man's daughter the latter naturally thought it was necessary to put up a good bluff, that being the usual method of procedure. Consequently, he looked solemn, coughed once or twice as a sort of preliminary, commended with himself a minute or two, coughed again and asked:

"Can you support her in the style to which she has been accustomed?"

"If I couldn't," returned the young man promptly, "I ought to be ashamed of myself."

"That's always been his way," returned her dearest friend. "I've heard lots of girls comment on it."

Pertinent Questions.

Why Will a Woman Throw Away Her Good Looks and Comfort?

Why will a woman drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence and miss three-quarters of the joy of living, when she has health almost within her grasp? If she does not value her good looks, does she not value her comfort?

Why, my sister, will you suffer that dull pain in the small of your back, those bearing-down, dragging sensations in the loins, that terrible fullness in the lower bowel, caused by constipation proceeding from the womb lying over and pressing on the rectum? Do you know that these are signs of displacement, and that you will never be well while that lasts?

What a woman needs who is thus affected is to strengthen the ligaments so they will keep her organs in place. There is nothing better for this purpose than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The great volume of testimony which is constantly rolling in, proves that the Compound is constantly curing thousands of just such cases.

The following letter from Mrs. Marlow is only one of many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those she has relieved—surely such testimony is convincing:

"My trouble commenced after the birth of my last child. I did not know what was the matter with me. My husband went to our family physician and described my symptoms, and he said I had displacement and falling of the womb. He sent me some medicine, but it did little good. I let it go on about two years, and every time I did any hard work my womb would come down. Finally a lady friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. The first bottle helped me so much, I continued to take it right along. My back was almost the same as no back. I could not lift scarcely any weight. My life was just a drag to me. To-day I am well of my womb trouble, and have a good, strong back, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. L. MARLOW, Milford, Ill.

is nothing better for this purpose than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The great volume of testimony which is constantly rolling in, proves that the Compound is constantly curing thousands of just such cases.

The following letter from Mrs. Marlow is only one of many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those she has relieved—surely such testimony is convincing:

"My trouble commenced after the birth of my last child. I did not know what was the matter with me. My husband went to our family physician and described my symptoms, and he said I had displacement and falling of the womb. He sent me some medicine, but it did little good. I let it go on about two years, and every time I did any hard work my womb would come down. Finally a lady friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. The first bottle helped me so much, I continued to take it right along. My back was almost the same as no back. I could not lift scarcely any weight. My life was just a drag to me. To-day I am well of my womb trouble, and have a good, strong back, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. L. MARLOW, Milford, Ill.

FIRE WENT THROUGH WOODRUFF FACTORY

HEAVY LOSS CAUSED BY MORNING BLAZE.

Flames Believed to Be of Incendiary Origin Destroy Janesville Shoe Company Stock and Damage Much of the Janesville Plating Company Machinery and Goods.

Fire in the Woodruff Buckle factory early this morning caused a loss of about $5,000.

The Janesville Shoe Company machinery and leather suffered to the extent of $1,000, this amount being covered by insurance.

The loss on the building is covered by the insurance of about $4,000. The roof and floors are badly damaged but the walls are in good shape. The boilers in the basement were damaged but little. The building was put up in 1882 and cost $15,000.

The Janesville Plating Works carried $450 insurance and the damage to machinery, chemicals and finished stock was about $300.

Fred Woodruff had household goods packed in an upper room. The amount of loss on these is small.

The building is owned by H. S. Woodruff and was occupied by the Janesville Plating Co., of which George Woodruff is proprietor. Mr. Woodruff occupied the south half of the basement and the south end of the first floor with machinery, castings and bicycle supplies. The latter he was planning for an eastern bicycle manufacturer to be sent to Europe. He had just received a large stock of 98 models. Mr. Woodruff had $600 or $700 worth of machinery and stock.

In the north end of the basement, where the fire is supposed to have started, was the machinery of the defunct Janesville Shoe company, which at one time occupied the upper floor of the building. The machinery had all been packed this week and piled up in one end of the basement, ready for shipment. It was owned by J. L. Mahoney and Isaac F. Connors, who expected to take it to Port Arthur. An insurance inspector was here yesterday to examine the shoe company stock but found it packed and took no action.

Insurance men believe the fire was set, and think it started near a window, as if the glass had been broken and a match put into the shoe company stock. August Bergmann, night watchman at the cotton mills, saw the fire at 3 o'clock this morning.

When he got outside of the building the flames had burst out and he ran to the west side engine house and gave the alarm, and it was turned in from box 18.

When the department arrived the north end of the building was enveloped in flames and the basement was on fire from the north end to about the middle of the building. The flames soon reached the roof and burst out at the ventilator in the center of the building.

CANE RUSH IN BELOIT

Corner Stone Laying Resulted in a Fierce Scrimmage.

Beloit, Wis. Nov. 19.—[Special]—The corner stone of Emerson hall was laid this morning by Prof. J. Joseph Emerson in the presence of the entire college faculty and students and many citizens. Warning was issued this morning to freshmen not to carry canes. The class attended the corner stone exercises in a body carrying canes. They were waylaid by sophomores on the campus where a fierce fight or cane rush occurred. Many battered heads were the result. Neither side can claim victory. The freshmen declare they will have revenge and a hot time is looked for.

SANBORN'S WINDOW AFIRE

Display Was Very Near to Causing Destruction of Store.

One of the prettiest grocery display windows seen in the city in a long time came very near proving a most expensive display window to C. A. Sanborn & Co. last evening. The decorations caught fire and it was only by quick work on the part of the proprietor and his clerks that the fire was kept from spreading through the store.

Jubilee Lipton, who has made $50,000,000 in the grocery business in 20 years and who has just departed from our shores after a tour in the United States, attributes his success to printers' ink, employed in the advertising columns of the newspapers. It is his opinion that one might as well undertake to run a store in a tunnel as to try to do business without appealing to the public through the press.

THEY WISH TO KEEP FRATERNITY HALL

DEFENDANTS MAKE ANSWER IN SHOPIERE CASE.

They Declare There Will Be No Assessment, and that the Law Has Been Obeyed—Mortgage Will Not Be Foreclosed—Boycott Alleged.

The Shopiers Fraternity hall case is being crowded by the plaintiffs who have had representative in the city this week. An answer has been filed by the defendants who are now in possession of the hall. They protest against the appointment of a receiver and declare that it will be ruinous to the interests of the company. They declare that the receipts of the hall will be $171.60 for this year and that the compensation to the officers of the society will not exceed 50 per cent of the net annual income. They admit that a mortgage will soon fall due but say it will not be foreclosed. They allege a boycott by the plaintiffs and say that the plaintiffs are doing their best to injure the corporation which they claim to be protecting.

Action for the appointment of a receiver and the distribution of the assets of the Fraternity hall association was begun by Dr. A. B. Manley, E. P. Postwick, James Conley and S. K. Sweet. The suit lies against the association, but President Johnson Dunn, Secretary Frank Steadwell and Treasurer Charles Shimeall are the men they are especially after.

Fraternity hall was built in 1893 at a cost of $1,200. Dr. Manley was president until July, 1896. At the 1896 meeting the Steadwell faction mustered eighty-five votes and elected Dunn, president. At that time Dr. Manley claims there was $233 in the treasury and the hall was on a paying basis. His complaint relates that the directors at once voted the president, secretary and treasurer a salary of $50 a year each, although the old officers had always served without pay.

The same salary was voted this year, and the officer's report showed, the complaint avers, that instead of a balance in the treasury, the strong box is so empty that an assessment on all the stockholders must be levied to get through the year.

MANTELL WAS WELL LIKED

"A Secret Warrant" Seen by Appreciative Play-Goers.

Robert Mantell won appreciative applause from a large Janesville audience last night. In "The Secret Warrant" he has a play of the romantic type, which has been in such high favor for the last two seasons, a play full of action and with strong climaxes. It suits Mr. Mantell admirably. The commanding stage presence which made him the adored of matinee audiences counts for its full value in the part of Captain Beaumont. A degree of dash and vigor is required that is much more congenial to Mr. Mantell than the subtler distinctions of the problem play. His wife, Charlotte Behrens, has a charming personality and won hearty applause by her strong work in the second and third acts.

The support as a whole was very satisfactory, a slight tendency toward exaggeration in several of the parts being excusable as not out of keeping with the atmosphere of the play.

HOME DECORATION.

Furniture For Bedrooms—A Novel Costume For a Girl.

Enameled wood furniture is very much favored for the bedrooms of young girls. It is usually white or cream, but the style of decoration varies. Gold or colored lines, blue or green delft scenes and flower designs painted in oils are all employed. Small tables of fancy forms, so useful for holding a plant, vase or workbasket, are easily decorated at home, and as the frame may be of plain deal the whole affair need not be at all expensive. Square, triangular, round or oblong, they usually have a shelf near the floor, which serves to keep the legs firm. Of course the top only may be made of deal, the legs and shelf being of fancy wood, but in that case the table is more costly and can hardly be called homemade. Where the whole thing is of deal and the legs are square and plain it may be completely covered with flowered cretonne, or denim, or bur-laps, cut to fit the various parts, drawn tight and tacked with invisible tacks, or with nails having fancy heads. Some of these tables and dressing stands are exceedingly pretty, but the frames to be thus covered require to be very plain. When the top only is to be upholstered, the legs being of polished wood, plush may be employed, with a finish of fringe around the edge.

Today's sketch shows a novel costume for a girl. The skirt of plaid velours is mounted on a deep yoke of French blue grosgrain. The Russian blouse of blue grosgrain is fastened at the left side with long pearl buttons, and has a rather long basque. Around the shoulders is a double collar composed of a pelerine of blue grosgrain and a similar one of plaid velours. The sleeves are of blue grosgrain. The belt is of the same material, with a pearl buckle, and the cravat is of blue silk.

FASHION EFFECTS.

Patchwork Cushion Covers and Table Spreads—Minor Matters.

Patchwork is by no means out of date in France. Parisian women fond of fancy work utilize the fragments of wool or silk materials left from their gowns for the manufacture of cushion covers and table spreads as well as quilts. The pieces are cut in the form of diamonds, squares, hexagons or triangles.

Fur is to be worn to a great extent this winter, and composes not only pelerines and capes, but jackets and blouses. These blouses require to be very carefully made, as they tend to cause the waist to appear very large. Velvet is usually combined with fur for these garments.

Cuffs are an important feature of the costume, now that the upper part of the sleeve is shorn of its superabundant glory, and cuffs always repeat the decoration of the collar and revers.

Boleros and short pelerines of fur are used as a decoration for jackets of cloth or velvet. Fur capes are either long or very short, and the valois collar is lined with white or bright silk or satin.

Comparatively large boleros, with sleeves, are worn with walking costumes, and are often of dark fur trimmed with light. Otter or caracul trimmed with chinchilla or blue fox is much liked. Brown caracul is something new and becoming seen this season.

The illustration given today shows a costume of golden brown velvet. The skirt is trimmed near the foot by a narrow band of sable, forming scallops. The blouse bodice closes on the left side, where it is cut in scallops and bordered with fur, each scallop being fastened by a silver button. The short basque is also scalloped and edged with fur. The valois collar is fur bordered, as are the wrists of the sleeves. The belt is of velvet. The hat of beige felt is trimmed with golden brown velvet and ostrich plumes.

Smart Mr. Spatts.

"I suppose that this is called angel cake," said Mr. Hunker as he sat at Mrs. Small's tea table, "because it is warranted to make an angel of anybody who eats it."

"No, sir," replied Mr. Spatts, promptly. "It is called angel cake because an angel baked it."

And Mrs. Small beamed on him and did not ask him for money for a whole week, although his board bill was a month in arrears.—Judge.

A Rift in the Lute.

Country Cousin (on a visit to London, to lady fiddler)—Were you practicing on your violin just now, Miss Strad? I thought I heard you.

Miss Strad—No. I haven't touched it to-day.

Country Cousin—Ah! then it must have been an organ in the street!

And for the life of him he can't understand why Miss Strad now gives him the cold shoulder.—London Punch.

Knew Where to Find Her.

Mrs. Yeast—I was surprised to see your husband entering a saloon the other day.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—I guess he wanted to see me.

"You don't mean to say he would find you there!"

"Well, he was pretty sure I would come there to find him."—Yonkers Statesman.

J. O. Berry, one of the best known citizens of Spencer, Mo., testifies that he cured himself of the worst kind of piles by using a few boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He had been troubled with piles for over thirty years and had used many different kinds of so called cures, but DeWitt's was the one that did the work and he will verify this statement if any one wishes to write him. C. D. Stevens.

Giving His Sister Away.

Alfred—Say, sis, did Mr. Cumofitt bring my umbrella back?

Angelina—Why, Mr. Cumofitt did not have your umbrella, Alfred. What made you think that?

Alfred—Why, I heard him say last night that he would just steal one more, and I didn't see my umbrella to-day.—Demorest's Magazine.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warnings of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. C. D. Stevens.

Provision for Both.

Smith walked up Market street the other evening with a box of candy under one arm and a big package of meat under the other.

"Hello, Smith," said Brown; "gone to housekeeping? I didn't know you were married."

"I'm not yet."

"What are you doing with that candy and meat, then?"

"Going to see my girl."

"Do you have to furnish the family with meat already?"

"Oh, no; the candy is for the girl and the meat is for the dog. I have to square myself with both."—San Francisco Post.

The Comments of Friends.

Jinks—You know that fellow Crooks we dined with the other night?

Griggs—Yes.

J.—He's the most infernal hypocrite you ever met. I never saw such a wretched, miserable—

G.—Stop, stop! I've heard all that before.

J.—Why, I never opened my mouth about it.

G.—No, but you forget I walked home with Crooks after I left you.—Brooklyn Life.

"What should I say?"

"An ice to a nice girl."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AMERICAN MONTHLY
REVIEW OF REVIEWS

It is impossible to promise particular features that will appear in the "AMERICAN MONTHLY" during the coming year, for it is, as the Bookman says, "a great monthly newspaper." As such, it prints for its readers an illustrated account of the notable things which make the history of the month, of the political, the economic, and literary happenings which are of value to intelligent men and women. The Editor's "Progress of the World" tells succinctly an illustrated story of the month. The "Leading Articles" give the best thought and information of the current magazines in five continents; the contributed articles furnish the character sketches of the man of the month, and give timely discussions by authorities on any question of immediate serious import.

The result of this comprehensive effort to edit in one monthly volume the information needed by intelligent people of "live" instincts is best gauged in the opinions which the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY have seen fit to express. These are thinking business men, clergymen, editors, lawyers, professors, engineers, the wide-awake women of America. They write that the AMERICAN MONTHLY "is indispensable"; "is simply invaluable"; "is a generous library in itself"; "is a historical cyclopedia of the world"; "the best means of aid for a busy man"; "the best periodical of the kind we have ever had"; "a triumph of editorial genius"; "the world under a field-glass," etc., etc.

CRIMPED CRUST BREAD?

Very likely not. It's a new bread, baked in a new way—in a

QUAKER PAN!

Every virtue and goodness of the best old-way bread—and something more.

Never a raw streak, never an overdone spot. The baking is uniform. When the loaf is done anywhere it is done everywhere.

Not an atom of the bread goodness is wasted. It can't get away while the baking is going on. The "raising" of the dough seals the pan air tight

Until you have tested Crimped Crust Bread you do not know where bread possibilities end.

No matter what you remember of "the bread that mother used to make," or "Aunt Jane," good as they were, you'll say in your secret soul that Crimped Crust bread is better. It must be—the materials are just as good and no tricky oven can ever plague the woman who uses Quaker Pans.

Sale commences Saturday. Quaker Pans at 20c each,

And a loaf of fresh Quaker Crimped Crust
Bread, free, with every Pan.
